New Structure

AFRC Publishing Branch

AFRC Publishing Who and What We Service

---

- 45 field units and AFRC HQ
- ~2100 command and unit publications
- ~1000 forms

PUBLISHING

Some Accomplishments

---

---

- Migrated all legacy pubs to AFDPO e-pubs website Aug 02
- Started ICS viewer deployment via web link and FTP server 1 Oct
- Submitted 685 AFRC and unit forms to AFDPO for conversion
  - Convert in-house an estimated 315 unit forms not submitted
- Moved command gaining pubs website to limited access web server Sep 02
- Centrally manage Adobe Acrobat software in publishing-- data call for version 5.0 completed—fully funded

Some Initiatives

---

---

- Identify all AFRC unit legacy publications and migrate to AF e-pubs website
- Eliminate all individual AFRC unit publications websites except ARPC
- Test and install secure FTP server software on all Hq AFRC FTP servers
- Test and deploy Client Version software to all AFRC FTP clients
- Improve the gaining command coordination process

ISSUES

Gaining Command Publications

---

---

- Peacetime, pre-mobilized requirement
- AFRC OPRs must review and determine applicability—work
- Critical that active duty MAJCOM OPRs send draft pubs to AFRC for determining applicability
- Need YOUR support to make process work!

CONCERNS

PureEdge Software

---

---

- Criteria for determining the initial issue of designer and IMT licenses
  - Basis of issue and quantity
- Shortfall in licenses needed for successful deployment
- Budgeting of follow-on costs for software licenses
- Deployment of PureEdge software on SIPRNET

The ultramarine blue background with its golden yellow border represents the night-and-day sky and displays the Air Force colors

The great golden wings represent the USAF, while the eagle represents the Air Force Reserve – ever watchful, poised, and ready

The olive branch indicates the desire for peace

The original World War I Air Corps insignia, consisting of a blue disc and white star bearing a red disc, identifies the Air Force Reserve as an Integral part of the USAF
